It's the 1st Spring Forward: No. 1 for dance discoveries!

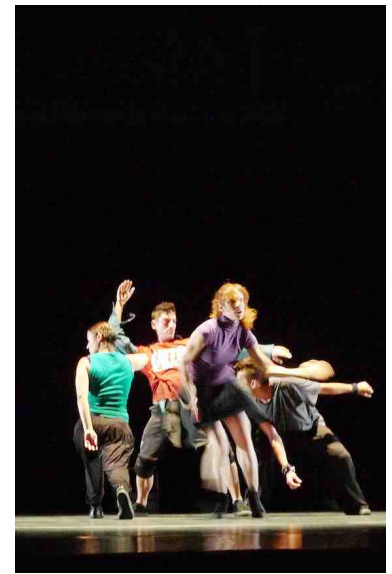

On this auspicious Tuesday 11.1.11 we launched our new website for the 1st Spring Forward. Here you'll find a festival of dance for changing times, when the clocks leap an hour, in Slovenia's beautiful compact capital Ljubljana, from Friday 25 to Sunday 27 March 2011.

www.aerowaves-springforward.org offers the complete programme of 22 companies during 3 days in 5 theatres, practical details and the registration form. And if you are amongst the 1st 50 to register, it's all absolutely free!

Yes, that's right - hotel, receptions, performances, local travel.

All you have to do is get to Ljubljana.

Will Spring Forward be a one-off? No, it's the 1st of many - next year, Italy!

The dance leaving from Platform 12

This may be a time of financial cut-backs in the arts across Europe, but dancers are still dancing. The next couple of months see a succession of Platforms as Hungary, Slovenia, Switzerland, Cyprus, Estonia and the Czech Republic all entice presenters with glimpses of what usually goes on in their countries all the year round. And there are a growing number of regional Platforms too, for NRW in Germany, for the Balkans, and for the Arab world in Beirut. These events and more are detailed on the Aerowaves Platforms Calendar www.aerowaves.org/european-events/dance-platforms. The challenge for all is to respond to this excellent work by increasing the number of available dance performances and audiences attending them. Not easy! If anyone would like to join a discussion of these issues at Spring Forward, John Ashford would be pleased to hear from them via www.aerowaves.org/info/contact/

Aerowaves in Frankfurt

The Aerowaves weekend at the Mousonturm in Frankfurt now enters its third year with the strongest line-up yet. Nine of our 2011 Priority companies meet each other for the first time on stage and after. There's a special Facebook page at www.facebook.com/pages/Aerowaves-Frankfurt/192430707539 with all the latest news: tell your friends...
